FRANCO-BRITISH FORMULA DISCARDED

PEACE PLAN SHELVED BY LEAGUE; THREATS OF ITALY IGNORED

ITALIANS AND ETHIOPIANS LOCKED IN BITTER BATTLE ON THURSDAY

By DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Staff Writer.

The Franco-British plan for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian war was formally eliminated today by the council of the League of Nations as a basis for discussion.

Instructing its committee of 13 to proceed with attempts at conciliation, the council sent to its archives the formula of Premier Laval of France and Sir Samuel Hoare of England, who retired yesterday from his post as British foreign secretary because of popular displeasure with the plan.

Defending his participation in preparation of the plan, Sir Samuel told the House of Commons today Great Britain's recent foreign policy was based on the fear that the League of Nations might collapse—not on fear of "any Italian threat."

"If the Italians attacked us," said Hoare, speaking merely as a member of the house, "we would retaliate and, judging from past history, we should retaliate with full success."

Hoare, like Prime Minister Baldwin had arrived in the House of Commons without being given any applause, was cheered at the end of his speech.

The resignation of the foreign secretary was followed by a report from Paris that Premier Laval might also bow out amid the storm of criticism against the proposal for Ethiopian peace.

Italian and Ethiopian troops fought bitterly today for the possession of the town of Addis Ababa.

The Franco-British proposals for peace in Ethiopia, which that country would have been partially dismembered, were formally shelved by the League of Nations council today.

Sir Samuel Hoare, who resigned as British foreign secretary last night because of popular indignation over the plan in which he collaborated, told the house of commons Britain's recent foreign policy was based on fear of breakdown of the league, but not fear of "any Italian threat."

Italian and Ethiopian troops fought on the northern front in the wake of two Ethiopian assaults which left hundreds dead.

Ethiopian hands in the Takkaze River sector were believed by Italians to be hopelessly trapped.

Great Britain faced a cabinet crisis.

SIXTEEN CARDINALS GIVEN RED HATS IN SOLEMN CEREMONY

OCCASION MARKED BY MUCH POMP IN VATICAN CITY ON THURSDAY

By A. E. STUNTZ
(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)
VATICAN CITY, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Pope Pius, in a ceremony of great pomp and solemn splendor, conferred red hats today upon 16 new cardinals.

The other four new cardinals, papal nuncios at Vienna, Madrid, Warsaw and Paris, will receive their hats at their posts.

Silver trumpets, sounded from a high balcony in the ancient cathedral of St. Peter, heralded the pontiff's approach, as he came on his throne, carried on the shoulders of 12 scab-clad attendants, to the ceremony. He wore a bishop's mitre.

Tens of thousands of the faithful cried "Viva il Papa" and waved hands and handkerchiefs, many shouting chairs and pews to see him better as he was carried up the nave.

INVESTIGATE MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF BLONDE STAR

Natural causes were believed responsible for the death of Thelma Todd, statuesque blonde screen star whose body was discovered in her automobile in a garage near her apartment and famous sidewalk cafe at Santa Monica, Cal., last night. Authorities launched an investigation, however, on the theory that she might have been the victim of a gang who attempted to extort money from her on threat of death six months ago. They also threatened to blow up her cafe. Later developments have added mystery to the affair and a grand jury probe is now under way.

NEW MYSTERY ANGLE ENTERS THELMA TODD DEATH ON THURSDAY

WOMAN FRIEND SAYS SHE SAW HER LATE SUNDAY NIGHT WITH DARK MAN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The eerie mystery of Thelma Todd driving with a "foreign looking man" in Hollywood hours after her death, Sunday, has been given a new angle today.

This angle of the strange case was given to police by Mrs. Carmen West, estranged wife of the screen star's business partner and owner of the garage where she was found dead Monday.

"I saw Thelma Todd with a man of dark complexion whom I did not recognize about 4 p. m. Sunday," Mrs. West related.

This was about 16 or 17 hours after the actress was supposed to have died in her garage near Santa Monica.

"I was returning from San Fernando Valley, and was traveling east on Sunset Boulevard when I saw a chocolate-colored man, who I immediately recognized as belonging to Miss Todd," Mrs. West said.

"I hurried my own car and drew as close as possible. Sitting next to the driver was Thelma Todd. I recognized her from a picture."

Fire Aboard Coal Barge Sends Many Vessels to Side

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The 2,376-ton barge Marie De Ronde burst into flames off Long Island's Atlantic coast today and coast guards, fearing that it might be a passenger vessel, sent six rescue craft racing to her side.

Identification was made by the freighter Suffolk, first wireless-equipped ship to reach the scene. The Suffolk arrived more than three hours after coast guards on shore, getting only a glimpse of the fire when the fog lifted momentarily, sent out an emergency call for all available rescue craft.

Because of the size of the burning vessel and the density of the smoke, the observers had later today.

FRANCO-BRITISH PLAN IS FORMALLY SHELVED BY LEAGUE

COMMITTEE OF THIRTEEN INSTRUCTED TO CONSIDER ITALO-ETHIOPIAN MATTER

GENEVA, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The council of the League of Nations formally shelved the Franco-British plan for peace between Italy and Ethiopia at a meeting today.

The project, which had created a storm throughout the membership of the league, was sent to the archives by resolution.

An Italian spokesman declared, immediately after the council's action:

"The league has killed the Franco-British proposal and now must take the responsibility for what happens."

The sanctions committee of 13 met but adjourned immediately after approving the continued operation of existing sanctions. It took no action concerning the launching of oil sanctions.

Both the sanctions committee and the committee of 13, which was charged with considering the whole Italo-Ethiopian situation, were expected not to meet again until about Jan. 15.

Flames Damaged Business Area Of Ennis Thursday

Ennis, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Fire, breaking out after an explosion early today in the Roy Ann cafe here, caused damage estimated at about $10,000 in the Ennis business district.

The cafe was ruined and flames damaged the New York store, the Wood grocery, the Clark dental offices, the Arden Insurance Company and the Moore building, owned by M. D. Glaspy.

Cause of the explosion was not determined.

FORMER HUSBAND OF VICTIM OF PLUNGE FROM HOTEL HELD

FIFTY-YEAR-OLD SALESMAN TELLS STORY POLICE DO NOT BELIEVE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Thomas L. Matkins was held without charge today in the death plunge of his divorced wife, Olga Steck, former Ziegfeld Follies beauty, from his 12th story hotel room.

The 50-year old bond salesman told police "I can't explain what happened but I feel sure, she jumped from the window."

He said he heard a "swish" behind him as he was packing a bag and when he turned she had vanished.

"We don't believe Matkins is telling the truth," Police Inspector Allen McGinn said. "There was a violent quarrel and we want to find out what it was about."

McGinn did not elaborate.

Matkins, accompanied by an attorney, appeared at police headquarters several hours after the body of the 36 year old woman was found yesterday.

He said he first learned of her death in a newspaper.

Everett E. Saxe, liquor salesman, told police the woman, who was divorced from Matkins 17 years ago, was his wife. Saxe was treated at a hospital for head wounds he said the woman inflicted with her slipper at a night club, where she was an entertainer, because he refused to join a party with Matkins.

He told police Miss Steck was "being nice" to Matkins because she wanted their two sons, Thomas, Jr., 19, and Robert, 18, who are in Matkins' custody, with her for Christmas.

TEXAS GOVERNOR AIDS INVALID BOY IN HIS "HAPPY-IN-SPITE" CLUB; ASKS BECOME MEMBER

EASTLAND, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Organizing a make-believe club promised a measure of happiness to a small boy here whose future threatened a long road of pain and confinement; then, from an unexpected source, the promise was given reality.

Billie Allen, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Kenny, a month ago underwent an operation. At home again with the prospect of being bedfast for many months he formed the "Happy-in-Spite" club with his mother, Miss Ethel Hatten, his nurse, the housemaid, Thelma Woods, and himself as charter members.

Monday last he received an envelope bearing the seal of Texas and containing a letter from Gov. James V. Allred at Austin. The governor, who has two small sons of his own, somehow had heard of the courageous effort of the boy 170 miles away to be brave in the face of discouragement.

My Dear Little Friend, (the Governor wrote):

"I have just heard that you have organized the 'happy-in-spite' Club and I want to commend you for your brave spirit."

ITALIAN THREATS NOT FEARED HOARE TOLD HOUSE COMMONS

FEAR OF BREAKUP LEAGUE MOTIVATED BRITISH FOREIGN POLICY

By BEN ROBERTSON
(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Prime Minister Baldwin admitted today he had made an error in accepting the now-lifeless Franco-British plan for ending the Italo-Ethiopian war and promised a largely-hostile parliament that "such a position shall not be possible again."

Opposition members of the House of Commons interrupted his explanation of why the cabinet had stood by the peace plan with shouts of "Stand by your country!"

His version of the peace debacle was that the government had lost contact in Paris with Sir Samuel Hoare, the foreign secretary who resigned last night in the face of loud public protests against the project he engineered with Premier Laval of France.

Sir Samuel told the crowded Chamber that he did not entirely approve of the plan himself but that it seemed the best aid to Franco-British relations.

The resigned foreign secretary assured his audience that, in any case, Great Britain had not advocated the plan from fear of Italy, stating:

"We had no fear as a nation whatever of any Italian threat. If the Italians attacked us, we would retaliate and, judging from past history, we should retaliate with full success."

Baldwin declared he felt himself chiefly responsible for the plan, admitted he had made an error, and pledged the legislators that he would never get himself in such a position again.

After declaring to the house that the British did not fear Italy, Hoare said:

"What was in our minds, however, was that an isolated attack."

KIDNAPED YOUTH IS FOUND

Caleb J. Milne

Caleb J. Milne, IV, (above) scion of a prominent Philadelphia family, who disappeared from his New York apartment last Saturday night and who was held under reported ransom demands of from $25,000 to $100,000, was found alongside a road near Doylestown, Pa., early Thursday. He was discovered by a passing motorist with his mouth and eyes taped and securely trussed. He was suffering from exposure and bruises but is believed not seriously injured. Reports declare no ransom was paid.

CALLES REFUSES TO QUIT MEXICO UNLESS FORCED BY VIOLENCE

BRANDED AS TRAITOR BY PARTY HE FORMED; SAYS AGITATION ARTIFICIAL

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 19.—(AP)—General Plutarco Elias Calles, branded a "traitor" by the national revolutionary party he formed, defied the government's demand today that he leave the country.

"Mexico is my country and only by violence can they make me leave," he declared after the national senate wrote him out of the party as a "traitor to the revolutionary program and a conspirator against the nation's institutions."

Calles said the agitation raised by the government, now headed by his political rival, President Lazaro Cardenas, is "artificial and unjustified."

Governors of four states, ousted from their official positions for asserted friendship with Calles, stepped down. Disputes said the changes in administration in Sonora, Sinaloa, Durango and Queretaro were accomplished peacefully.

Similar charges of conspiracy were preferred against five senators and Luis N. Morones, former minister of labor and economy, the latter being accused by the senate of having urged workers in Manzanillo to revolt.

Charged With Betrayals. Senator Torres Ortiz charged Morones with "tricking the workers" and building up a personal fortune which he said includes real estate valued at $60,000 pesos ($13,600,000).

Morones "betrayed the government," Calles said.

Revenue of Katy Runs Far Ahead Of Previous Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Matthew S. Sloan, chairman and president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas lines, told directors at their meeting here today that December revenue is running 24 per cent ahead of last year.

Sloan, who has just returned from an extensive tour of the Katy system, said the average revenue per car is higher than it has been since October, 1931. This, he said, is due to the fact that "we are having a heavier movement of high class commodities than we have had in years."

"There is an unmistakable spirit of optimism all through the southwest," he said.

SCION PROMINENT FAMILY FOUND DAZED, DOPED AND TRUSS BY ROADSIDE

By LEO W. SHERIDAN
(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press.)

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Dec. 19.—(AP)—Caleb Milne the Fourth, held four days by kidnapers, was abandoned by his abductors without the payment of a cent of the $50,000 ransom they had demanded, the department of justice announced today.

The 24-year-old grandson of a wealthy retired textile manufacturer of Philadelphia, lured from his New York City apartment late Saturday by a note that said his grandfather was ill, was found shortly before midnight—dazed, doped, bruised and trussed—beside a roadside ditch near here.

Today he was recovering in a Doylestown hospital. Doctors said his condition was not serious. Federal agents, who had the actor and mystery story writer in technical custody made no effort during the night to question him in detail. Physicians said he should be allowed to rest.

Milne was found by S. R. Gerhart, a Philadelphia salesman and R. Morris Urquhart, an inventor, who were driving along the old York road about midnight. Four youths, passing in another car shortly afterwards, assisted in getting the half-conscious youth to Lahaska, Pa., nearby, where he received first aid before being brought here.

Eyes and Lips Taped. Milne's eyes and lips were sealed with cruel tape that crisscrossed his face. His overcoat, pinned tightly about him, was a strait-jacket. There were no socks on his feet, but he wore one shoe.

Former Governor Freed Conspiracy Charge by Jury

BISMARCK, N. D., Dec. 19.—(AP)—A federal court jury today acquitted former Governor William Langer and two other former North Dakota officials of conspiracy charges.

Acquitted with Langer were R. A. Kinzer, former relief secretary, and Frank Vogel, former state highway commissioner. They were charged with conspiracy to obstruct administration of federal relief legislation by soliciting political contributions from workers paid with federal relief and highway funds.

A fourth defendant, Oscar Erickson, publisher of the Leader, for support of which the contributions allegedly were sought, was freed two days ago on a directed verdict.

The case was given to the jury. See LANGLER, Page 3

Teams-Trucks To Resume Work On Dam Friday

A maze of misunderstandings and technicalities that resulted in the halting of work by teams and trucks on the Lake Harbort dam improvement project Wednesday afternoon and Thursday had apparently been adjusted Thursday afternoon according to Mayor J. S. Murchison, and orders had been issued for the trucks and teams to resume operations Friday morning.

The mayor stated that through the co-operation of various officials representing all interested agencies it was believed that all difficulties had been eliminated and the work could continue without further hindrance.

WINTER MARKET CONDITIONS ARE FAVORABLE FOR GAS BUT BRING SHARP CUT FOR OIL OUTPUT

AUSTIN, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Winter market conditions today gave gas producers an allowable increase for January but Texas oil fields a sharp cut under orders of the Railroad Commission.

Gas fields outside of the Panhandle shared in an increase of 151,494,000 cubic feet daily while oil production was cut approximately 45,000 barrels from the Dec. 1 basic schedule to 1,015,645 barrels.

The oil cut was greater compared with Dec. 15 production, as reported by the commission, of 1,072,845 barrels.

New oil allowances by districts were East Texas, 428,000 barrels; Panhandle, 67,800; Moore county, 1,500; Osborne area, 500; North Texas, 57,500; Ford county, 500; West Central, 50,100; West Texas, 123,080; East Central, 42,232; Southwest Texas, 108,717 and Gulf Coast, 148,615.

Sweet gas allowances in the Panhandle were unchanged from 608,552,000 feet in the west zone and 181,740,000 feet in the east zone. For the rest of the state the daily flow was raised 717,000 feet from 239,223 effective Jan. 1.

Allowed production in the Panhandle from 451,000,000 feet to 600,000,000 feet, while in the state it was cut from 4,770,000 to 4,700,000.

The new order, which was effective Jan. 1, limited the number of wells to one, limited the size of the well to 4 inches.

Convicted Mass Murder in Washington

PORT ORCHARD, Wash., Dec. 19.—Leo Hall, 33, was convicted of first degree murder today in the Erland's Point Mass Murder trial. The jury recommended the death penalty. Eggy Peterson Paulos, his co-defendant, was acquitted. Mrs. Paulos and Hall were officially charged with the murder of Eugene Chenevert, one of six persons beaten, hacked and shot to death at the Frank Erland home on the night of Dec. 28, 1934, at Erland's Point, seven miles from Bremerton. Robbery was declared the motive.

Hall was arrested following a statement by Mrs. Paulos that she was forced by him to aid in the robberies but took no part in the slayings.

Hall took the verdict smiling slightly.

Mrs. Paulos, a handkerchief to her face, kept her eyes on the floor.

The case went to the jury late yesterday.

LEAGUE

All adopted unanimously and without discussion a resolution which read:

"The council thanks the delegates of France and the United Kingdom for the communication which they have made to it concerning the suggestion which they have put before the two parties (Italy and Ethiopia) with a view to conciliation.

"In view of the preliminary character of these suggestions as emphasized by the two powers, which in the first case took the initiative of putting them forward, the council does not consider it is called upon to express an opinion in regard to them at present.

"The council instructs the committee of 13 (charged with the Italo-Ethiopian discussion) bearing in mind the provisions of the (league) covenant, to examine the situation as a whole as it may appear in the light of information which the committee may procure."

Following a two-hour secret session, previous to the public meeting a member of the council told the Associated Press there was no immediate question of imposing an oil embargo on Italy, meanwhile, to reinforce present arms, financial and economic sanctions.

The general Geneva impression was that the existing sanctions system would be permitted to continue functioning against Italy pending stabilization of the political situations arising in Britain and France as a result of the unsupported Franco-British project for peace and military developments in the war area.

Complete collapse of efforts to settle the war through the Franco-British peace plan was indicated when several members of the council declared it does not even merit examination.

Delegates of the little entente (Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania) the Balkan entente (Greece, Rumania, Turkey and Yugoslavia), Russia and Portugal were understood to have joined in polite but unmistakable language in registering disapproval of the project.

Plan Is Dead.

"The plan is as dead as anything can be," said one delegate after the council session.

A draft resolution, approved by the committee of 13, was to be submitted to a public session of the council today.

The sanctions committee of 18 was called to meet immediately after the council session. Various delegates said the committee of 18 was expected to emphasize the necessity of the continued operation of existing sanctions.

France's Premier Pierre Laval proposed creation of the conciliation committee of 13, pointing out that neither Italy nor Ethiopia had yet replied formally to the last peace proposal, and that conciliation efforts therefore should be continued.

The committee of 13 unanimously adopted a resolution to be submitted to the council, meeting as such.

No Replies Received.

The resolution takes note of the steps which have been made in the interests of peace, and recognizes that replies have not yet been received from either side.

The resolution says future negotiations will be handled by the committee of 13.

A delegate explained that the resolution meant if any further action were found necessary the council would entrust the committee of 13 with the question.

The council's discussion of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict was complicated by the resignation of Sir Samuel Hoare as British foreign secretary and the possibility of a French cabinet crisis as a result of the drafting of the much-criticized Anglo-French peace project.

Unofficial French sources forecast that Edouard Herriot, resigning leader of France's dominant radical-socialist party, would eventually quit Laval's cabinet, but they believed the minister of state would await the premier's return to Paris before doing so.

Mussolini Plays Waiting Game.

ROME, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Premier

Mussolini delayed today his answer to the Franco-British proposals for peace in Ethiopia, considered by Fascists to be already beaten in London, slipping in Paris and Geneva and rejected in Addis Ababa.

Il Duce discussed the peace terms for three hours in a session of his Fascist grand council, extending into the early hours of this morning, but made public no decision, calling instead another meeting for Saturday night.

The delay enabled Mussolini to study the quick succession of developments following the advance of the proposals and his pledge at Pontinia yesterday to "fight" for Italy's rights.

Ethiopia Deplores Proposals.

ADDIS ABABA, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The Ethiopian government today gave identical notes to the ministers of Great Britain and France, deploring the Anglo-French proposals for Italo-Ethiopian peace but not actually rejecting them.

The text of the identical notes was couched in the strongest of terms.

WEST NAVARRO CLUB DEFEATED CURRIE IN FINALS BY 46 TO 24

TROPHY NOW BECOMES THE PERMANENT PROPERTY OF PURDON SCHOOL BY WIN

For the third consecutive year Purdon high school won the annual Y. M. C. A. basketball tournament. The trophy now becomes the permanent property of that school. Purdon achieved the distinction of being the only team to win the title three straight years in the eight years' history of the event, by a brilliant 46-24 victory over Currie at 7 o'clock Wednesday night on the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

The tedious double elimination process among 10 teams for the annual event started last Friday at the Y, and continued through Saturday night, which left Currie and Purdon in the running. Emhouse was declared third-place winner and Union High was consolation winner.

In an exhibition game an all-star team picked from Y. M. C. A. players, defeated Union High 35-21 at 8 o'clock last night. In the final game of the tournament Purdon took an eight-point lead, early in the first quarter, but a few minutes later Currie pulled up to within one point, the score at that time being 8-7. Shortly thereafter Purdon opened its great offensive, and the quarter ended 13-9, Purdon.

Never Threatened. Purdon was never threatened for the remainder of the game, as they scored eleven points in each of the remaining three quarters. Currie was limited to two tallies in the second, four in the third, and nine in the fourth. Purdon's combination of speed and height with the uncanny ability of Rogers and Kennedy, forwards, accounted for the victory.

Following are the box scores of last night's games:

Santa Claus Letters

Coriscana, Tex., Route 3.
Dear Santa Claus:—I am a little boy five years old and too little to write to you. My mother is writing my letter. Will you please bring me a Skippy Doll, a monkey, a book to read, some candy, fruit and nuts. I try to be a good boy and help my mother all I can. Your little friend, Scotty Miller.

Kerens, Tex., Dec. 16, 1935.
Dear Santa Claus:—May I introduce myself, Santa? I am the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Jones and I am only six months old, so you see my mother is having to write my first letter. This will be my first Christmas tree and it is decorated so pretty, all ready for you to bring me, please, a rubber dollies, Tinker toy, a rattle and gold bracelet and a nursery chair. Don't forget me every Christmas now because you see I have only been living with my mother and daddy such a short time. I'm here for keeps.—Love to you, Peggy Sherrill Jones.

BRIDGROOM OF DAY FACES IMPRISONMENT FOR LIFE ONCE MORE

AUSTIN, Dec. 19.—(P)—Henry Thompson, 30, bridegroom of a day faces life imprisonment on a 10-year-old murder conviction upon revocation today by Governor Allred of a conditional pardon.

Thompson, convicted in Tarrant county in January, 1925, in the death of his wife, was sentenced to life but in December, 1934, former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson granted a conditional pardon.

A year after his release, Austin police arrested him, so the governor's proclamation stated, "in the act of burglary" of a liquor store.

"It is obvious that this man has violated the conditions of his conditional pardon," the governor's revocation proclamation said.

Yesterday Thompson and Mrs. Viola Shropshire, a divorcee, were married in the Travis county jail.

The three acquitted today were on trial for the third time. They were convicted at the first trial, in June, 1934, and gained a new trial upon an appeal. The second trial, last month, ended in jury disagreement.

Langer was removed from office as governor followed his conviction. Renominated as Republican candidate for office, he withdrew in favor of his wife, Mrs. Lydia Langer, who was defeated in the final election by Thomas Moodie, Democrat.

Moodie subsequently was disqualified for failure to fulfill a constitutional requirement and was succeeded by Walter Welford then lieutenant governor.

of the parents questioned replied, leaving considerable

room for speculation as to the facts found.

The discovery that surprised the committee

most was that farmers do not want their children

taught agriculture, parents in industrial sections are less enthusiastic about industrial subjects than are those of other groups, and tradesmen oppose commercial courses.

It may be, says the committee report, "that people do not wish their children to engage in the same occupations as their parents, or they may feel that formal training is not necessary."

It may be, too, parents

want their children to have a broader education than they themselves have had.

They may believe that specialization comes more easily and effectively after a sound foundation of general education has been built.

There is a chance, too,

that farmers, industrial workers and tradespeople

have been dissatisfied with the special courses which have been offered in those subjects, finding them superfluous and not particularly helpful. They regard

them as a waste of time that might better be devoted to improving English,

mathematics and spelling,

three subjects which stood at the top in preference.

CHILD LABOR SETBACK

The National Child Labor Committee reports, as a result of the Supreme Court decision in the Schechter case invalidating

child labor provisions, national safeguards for children are back where they were three years ago. In

New York City, for example, last September there were 1,428 permits for full-time work granted to 14

and 15-year-old children,

compared with only 390 in 1934.

In many of those cases, it may be assumed, no harm

would be done, but it must be admitted that the general situation is unsound.

There are too many children of 13, 14 and 15, if not younger, working full time in factories and mills

of various sorts when they ought to be still in school.

It is largely by extending the period of youth and education that society as a whole goes ahead.

This, it must be remembered,

when children do not grow-up, they are not out of employment and keep them

in the natural

upward movement of growth-up.

The efficiency of this

move may be seen from the

fact that, when the recent

stock boom developed, the

office was able to take care

of its added business with

a smaller staff.

Similar mechanization is

to be in progress in

factories every-

where for the same purpose. It is the same old story while our industrial society is preparing for the care of human

waste.

WORK AND PLAY

Compelled to work from day to day.

His one desire was golf to play.

The more he longed to play the game,

More burdensome his work became.

At last he gained his heart's desire

And was permitted to retire.

Oh, fortunate and happy day!

Now he could spend his time in play.

Since no more hills were left to climb,

At play he had to spend his time.

But when he played a month or two,

He longed for something else to do.

He found it wearisome to play

Unless from work you run away.

When one must golf from spring

till fall,

It isn't any fun at all.

SCHOOL FOR VILLAGEOFFICIALS

The Association of Towns

of the State of New York,

co-operating with certain newspapers, has started a school to teach village officials how to govern efficiently under state law.

Town officials from nine counties are to attend the first sessions at Rochester in December.

It is a sensible plan.

Good government ought to begin in the smallest governmental units. Often elected officials haven't much

but willingness to serve, to qualify them for public office. A simple but intelligent course in administration, finance, safety work,

public sanitation and so on ought to make better

mayors, councilmen and other public officers, and therefore better towns to live in.

NATIONAL CREDIT.

Uncle Sam still has plenty of credit—possibly too much for his own good. The last appeal for $900,000,

000, half in 2-3-4 per cent

bonds and the rest in short-term 1-2-3 per cent treasury notes, brought offers of five times that much.

Money is still plentiful

and cheap. The bankers

who absorb these bonds and

notes don't like to see the government debt still rising,

but have no better use for their funds. Besides, in spite of their protest against federal deficits, they still consider it their duty to see the government through.

It will be better for everybody when such calls

are no longer necessary.

Helpless depression victims have to be cared for; that is the obvious fact. Everybody would rather see $900,000,

000, or the whole $4,500,

000,000 offered, poured in to private enterprise.

If it could be put into industry, the building industry for example, there would be little more need of the government's borrowing and spending. That should come in another year or two.

BEATING SOCIAL SE-CURITY

"Social security seems to contain a lot within itself to defeat itself," observes a business writer. "The race to beat it by mechanization

is on in nearly every business unit in the land."

He tells of a characteristic example. A brokerage firm, anticipating increased

office expense when the old age and unemployment pension law goes into effect

next year, prepared to economize by putting in a completely mechanized system

of accounting and recording. With that system installed, it let enough employees go to take care of the new tax and pay for the new investment.

The efficiency of this

move may be seen from the

fact that, when the recent

stock boom developed, the

office was able to take care

of its added business with

a smaller staff.

Similar mechanization is

to be in progress in

factories every-

where for the same purpose. It is the same old

story while our industrial society is preparing for the care of human

waste.

SACRIFICIAL GOLD

It is rather a pitiful gesture that is required of the Italian people in raising the national gold fund. Wedding rings and other personal possessions, turned over to the government in special ceremonies all over the country, do not contribute much to the total, while they deprive their owners of articles of great sentimental value.

All the gold thus far

turned in, from the rich

cities as well as the country districts, comes to only a few millions. It can't possibly balance the billions of lire in gold which have left the Bank of Italy this year to purchase war materials

abroad.

Perhaps Mussolini knows

this already and is urging the gold fund not as a practical measure but for its psychological value. The sacrificial spirit involved

in parting with wedding rings and other loved treasures will enable citizens to bear other hardships and losses uncomplainingly.

DEBTS ADJUSTMENTCOMMITTEE MET WITH*DISTRICT SPECIALIST

Members of the farm debt adjustment committee of Navarro county met with O. E. Lillard,

district FDA specialist, in Corsicana

Tuesday afternoon at the city hall and outlined their plans for future work.

Among those members attending the meeting were L. I. Griffin, Cor-was decided to hold a meeting of the committee on the first Monday of each month at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in the offices of L. I. Griffin in the Daily Sun building.

The specialist explained that the duties of the committee were to

Interest Rate On Time Deposits Lowered

Due to the continued downward trend of revenues on investments in which commercial banks must invest their own and depositors funds, it has become necessary to lower the rate of interest paid on time deposits to a figure commensurate with the returns received by the banks from their investments. We have deferred this action considerably longer than banks in all parts of the United States, hoping conditions would change to such an extent as would justify a continuance of the present rates, but after careful thought and study it appears that the present levels of yield on investments will obtain for an indefinite time. Hence, it is most obvious that consistent with conservative banking principles, the rate of interest paid on time deposits must be lowered.

In line with the above, and effective January 1st, 1936, the rate of interest paid on time deposits will be as follows:

Accounts up to and including $2,500.00 interest will be paid at the rate of two per cent. The rate of interest computed on balances in excess of $2,500.00 will be on a basis of one per cent.

GOVERNOR HOFFMAN MAKES STATEMENT HAUPTMANN CASE

FILE BELIEVES CASE NOT LY SOLVED DOES NOT
UBT HAUPTMANN GUILT

LENTON, N. J., Dec. 18.—(P)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman today he was satisfied the kidnap murder of Edward G. Bremer had not been fully solved, but that he had never expressed an element of doubt as to Bruno Hauptmann's guilt.

Hauptmann stands guilty," he said, "as convicted by the courts."

Asked if he believed "the ultimate solution of the case had been reached," the governor said: "In my opinion it has not. No state official is warranted in thinking that it has and saying that the books are closed. You can't quote me, however, as saying there is any element of doubt as to Hauptmann's guilt. The courts have passed on that."

Questioned whether that statement meant he believed Hauptmann guilty, the governor replied: "Hauptmann stands guilty as convicted by the courts."

The governor said he had not sought any new evidence or the opinion of any person about the case. He said if Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police superintendent, or Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh wished to see him about any angles of the case, he would be glad to consult with them.

The "doubts" he mentioned in an Allentown, Pa., conversation last night, the governor said, were raised by the defense and many persons in the nation were not necessarily his own.

In Allentown, he recalled that some of the Lindbergh ransom money had been turned in by a person recorded on a deposit slip as "J. Faulkner," that question had been raised as to "rail 16" of the kidnap ladder, and that none of Hauptmann's fingerprints had been found on the ladder.

Never Expressed Doubt.

"I never expressed at any time anything as to a doubt I had in my mind," the governor said. "These points have been raised before but did not necessarily represent my views."

"At that conversation I also set out certain reasons why people thought Hauptmann guilty, and mentioned the testimony of Mr. Osborne, the state handwriting expert, who is of high standing."

"I think the doubts were raised by others. Anything I expressed was not an opinion I had, but questions raised by the defense as well as the prosecution."

Little Chance For Hauptmann Clemency

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(P)—The New York Evening Journal said today six of the eight members of the New Jersey court of pardons are firmly opposed to granting clemency to Bruno Hauptmann on the basis of "any evidence so far brought to light."

The poll of the court was taken, the newspaper said, by aides of Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey.

Hauptmann has no hope of clemency from the unanimous six, the Journal said, unless "Hauptmann confesses or names an accomplice, or submits a confession differing in substance from the 'evidence' offered at the trial that resulted in his conviction of the kidnap murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr."

A commutation to life imprisonment might follow if Hauptmann should "avail himself of either of these opportunities," the newspaper continued, adding that "should he refuse, even a detector test would make no difference."

DETERMINATION OF JAPAN FOR EQUALITY OF NAVY APPARENT

By LLOYD LEHRBAS,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—(P)—Japan's stubborn, unswerving determination to have a navy equal to "any regardless of world opposition" emerged clearly today as "seapower" delegates debated the merits of British compromise proposals.

While American, French and other conferees voiced approval of the principle of the British proposal that each nation set a limit on new construction based on the existing fleet, the Japanese made no secret of their opposition.

The tentative Japanese position recognizes the power to possess a navy necessary to assure the minimum security of the East, but under the existing equality of arms principle, the Japanese are under no obligation to limit their fleet.

REPUBLICANS MAKE DIRECT BID FOR SUPPORT DEMOCRATS WHO ARE OPPOSED TO NEW DEAL PLAN

By RICHARD RENDELL,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(P)—Unfolding part of their campaign plans for 1936, Republican leaders were engaged today in a definite effort to win support of the New Deal Democrats in the drive to oust the Roosevelt administration.

This plan to topple the New Deal by splitting away sizeable segments of the Democratic party became plain in an unexpected resolution announced by the Republican national committee last night after it had decided to hold the party's 1936 convention on June 9 at Cleveland.

Specifically, the announcement appealed to the "millions of constitutional Jeffersonian Democrats" to join hands with Republicans to prevent the establishment of what was termed "Socialistic state."

Introduced by R. B. Creager, Texas committee man, the resolution was adopted by a vote of 1,000 to 500, with Mark Requa, Californian, who is a close friend of Herbert Hoover, the resolution said:

"The coming election will determine whether we hold to the American system of government or whether we shall sit idly by and allow it to be replaced by a socialist state, a state of waste and extravagance and ruled by a dictatorship that mocks at the rights of states and the liberty of the citizen. x x x

"The crisis rises far above any question of political parties but it is only through political action that the menace can be fought."

Appealing to "Jeffersonian Democrats" for aid, the resolution continued:

"We ask this aid and co-operation not only in the coming election and in the campaign preceding it, but also after the victory is won and during the trying times that will follow when present conditions are being corrected and the nation is being brought back to government under the constitution."

In some quarters there was a disposition to regard this last sentence as an inferential promise that Democratic aid in beating the New Deal would not be forgotten after the election. For example, this was the interpretation placed upon it by the Washington Post.

SHORT CHRISTMAS RECESS OF SUPREME COURT MAY PRESAGE EARLY DECISION ON NEW DEAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(P)—Fresh controversy over the amended AAA act mingled today with disposition of New Deal litigation.

The speculation began when it became known that the high court will take only a two-weeks recess over Christmas and New Year's instead of the customary three weeks.

Thus the first session after the holidays will be held Jan. 6 instead of Jan. 13.

Why this decision was made was not divulged. Observers quickly noted, however, that it might possibly permit a final ruling a week earlier than expected on the AAA act, the Bankhead cotton act, and the Tennessee Valley act.

Arguments continued today before the supreme court bench on constitutionality of the farm legislation as amended last August.

to ratify action already taken under the original act by Secretary Wallace.

The government's contention that the legislation is valid was argued by Frank J. Wideman, assistant attorney general. Homer L. Bruce, Houston, Texas, was spokesman for eight Louisiana rice millers attacking the law.

Arguing for the millers yesterday, John P. Bullington, another Houston lawyer, contended the government has a right to an injunction against paying taxes levied on them to pay farmers for controlling production.

Questions from members of the court indicated they wanted to know why millers should not, as the government argues, "pay first and litigate later."

Bullington said that "our remedy as a law to get the money back is highly questionable."

CLASHING VIEWS OVER STRONGER ARMY AND NAVY EXPECTED TO BE HEARD IN NEXT CONGRESS HALLS

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(P)—Clashing views about the drive for a stronger army and navy seemed today to forecast a major confrontation at the congressional session opening in January.

These three developments brought the problem to the fore: 1. Senator Lewis (D-Ill.), just back from a European tour, called for increased army and navy strength to the United States could take what he terms "the rightful course of fearless independence" in a war-threatened world.

2. A few hours earlier Senator Frazier (R-N. D.) said war preparations head the country toward bankruptcy. Declaring that these preparations are "mad" and "inspired by 'those who make a profit out of war.'"

3. The war department drove ahead with its plan to build up the army air corps. Yesterday it ordered 100 swift craft, designed to strafe such targets as marching troops or ammunition dumps, and today it was indicated that new bombers and pursuit craft will be bought shortly. Money available for the purchases total $17,500,000.

Lewis, in an interview, said nations abroad are suspicious of each other and expect war.

"This is the state of affairs," he said, "which justify the president and congress and parties increasing our navy, multiplying our aviation, strengthening our army, as proof to the world that while we do not want to war against any people, we are prepared as against any war against our people."

Frazier, on the other hand, said "Our beloved country is leading all other nations in preparations for another world war x x x and that will undoubtedly mean that we are to get right in on the ground floor."

"It is not time to turn our bayonets and swords into pruning hooks and plowshares x x x."

The attack planes ordered yesterday are to be constructed by the Northrop Corporation of Inglewood, Cal., at a cost of $2,560,074.

STEVENS CONVICTION REVERSED BY COURT CRIMINAL APPEALS

CASE OF MAN SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR MURDER RE-MANDED FOR NEW TRIAL

AUSTIN, Dec. 18.—(P)—The court of criminal appeals today reversed and remanded the conviction of O. D. Stevens, convicted in Tarrant county for the murder of Harry Rutherford. Stevens was sentenced to death.

Rutherford was one of the three Handley triple murder victims whose wire-trussed bodies were taken from the Trinity river. The state alleged that Harry Rutherford, J. B. Rutherford and Jack Sturdivant were slain near Handley July 8, 1933.

W. D. May, a co-defendant tried for the Sturdivant murder, was electrocuted at Huntsville, Sept. 6.

Stevens, May and M. T. Howard were sentenced to federal prison for participation in the $71,000 Texas and Pacific mail robbery in Fort Worth in February, 1933. The slayings allegedly grew out of the robbery. Stevens, the state contended, was the master mind behind the robbery.

Stevens is at Alcatraz federal prison. May was returned from the federal prison for execution. Testimony was offered at Stevens' trial to show that J. B. Rutherford, his brother and Sturdivant went to Stevens' home to obtain a division of the mail robbery loot. Search for the bodies of the three started when a boy found their clothing in a wire basket in the Trinity river.

Stevens first was tried with 10 others on the mail robbery charge. He and his wife then were tried on narcotic charges after $50,000 in narcotics was located in a secret panel in his "house of mystery."

Stevens made two attempts to break jail. After the second effort he was stripped of his clothing and confined in the death cell in the Tarrant county jail.

The trial court should have responded to appellant's objection to the court's charge and instructed the jury that unless they found from all the evidence, the facts and circumstances beyond a reasonable doubt that a conspiracy existed between May and appellant to commit the offense for which the appellant was on trial, that they could not consider the acts and declarations of May in the absence of appellant and the criminative circumstances found on May's premises as any evidence of appellant's guilt," the appeals court stated.

"The court should also have in connection therewith instructed the jury that the acts and declarations of May in the appellant's absence could not be used by them as evidence to show existence of a conspiracy."

The appellate court said it "recognized the soundness" of the propositions advanced by Stevens' attorneys.

Stevens did not testify at his trial.

The court affirmed convictions in two other murder cases, those of Robert L. Newman, given life in Dallas county, and Cliff Clyburn, sentenced to 12 years from Smith county.

Clyburn killed Willie Baker, his son-in-law, as an outgrowth of domestic difficulties.

EAST TEXAS FIELD ALLOWABLE REDUCED IN PRORATION ORDER

REDUCTION SEVEN THOUS-AND BARRELS DAILY IN PRODUCTION JAN. 1

AUSTIN, Dec. 18.—(P)—The Railroad Commission today cut the East Texas field allowable in trimming the allowable production for the state by 57,234 barrels to 1,015,611 barrels effective Jan. 1.

The commission compared the January allowable to a bureau of mines market demand estimate of 1,017,200 barrels, "actual daily production on Dec. 15 of 1,072,845 barrels and a basic allowable Dec. 1 of 1,060,431 barrels.

East Texas' daily allowable was cut from 2.8 to 2.7 per cent of the average hourly potential. The commission estimated that factor would permit production of 428,000 barrels compared with 435,000 barrels currently.

A large delegation of East Texas operators demanded a material boost in permitted production, contending the amount was disproportionately low compared to other fields. They asked 25,000 barrels monthly increase up to 60,000 barrels.

The commission said other reductions were Panhandle, 1,000 barrels; Yates, 5,989 barrels; North Texas, 1,000 barrels; Van, 5,510 barrels, and Conroe, 6,150 barrels. The operators also applied for an increase, asserting the field could produce more without causing additional physical waste and there was a market demand for a greater amount of the crude than allowed this month.

NATIONAL DEBT OF UNITED STATES OVER THIRTY BILLIONS

FIRST TIME IN HISTORY GOVERNMENT DEBT HAS REACHED SUCH FIGURE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(P)—The national debt reached $30,555,791,967 today, passing the $30,000,000,000 mark for the first time in history.

The new high was caused by mid-December financing operations which added $662,639,937 to the debt.

The debt was near the figure estimated by President Roosevelt for the end of the fiscal year next, June 30—$30,723,000,000.

The deficit today stood at $1,606,711,875 compared with a year-end estimate of $3,281,000,000. Expenditures were $3,307,846,286 compared with full year estimates of $3,712,322,000.

These figures indicated to some the possibility that the public debt, when the 1936 fiscal year closes next June, may exceed the President's September estimate.

But if budget plans are carried out, a half billion dollars remains to be cut off the debt between now and June 30.

The budget had forecast a $550,000,000 debt decrease during the year through retirement of national bank notes with gold profits.

To date these retirements have amounted to only $283,000,000 leaving $267,000,000 yet to go.

Receipts for the present fiscal year through Dec. 15 were $1,700,659,910 compared with $1,663,891,727 in the same period last year, despite a big lag in processing tax payments pending court challenges of the AAA. Collections of this tax have amounted to $65,000,000 a year as against $28,000,000 last.

The $3,307,846,286 expenditure figure compared with $3,243,000,000 last year. "Emergency" spending stood at $1,411,000,000 in 1934.

The December financing pushed the treasury cash balance to $2,452,510,662. The treasury floated $1,382,910,700 of securities and reduced $418,291,900.

AMERICAN LEGION'S DEMAND FOR PAYMENT OF BONUS IS MADE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(P)—The American Legion demand for cash payment of the bonus was laid squarely before President Roosevelt today at the White House by Ray Murphy, national commander.

The Iowa laid before the president the legislative program adopted by the Legion. It included, in addition to the bonus, pension for widows and dependents, the universal service bill for war time and adequate national defense.

Murphy was accompanied to the White House by John Thomas Taylor, chairman of the legislative committee of the Legion.

As they left, Murphy refused to comment on the president's attitude but when asked if he thought a cash bonus bill could be passed over a veto, replied to have a bonus bill become law. We are not even discussing a veto.

Murphy told newsmen he had "reason to believe" the Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars could be united on a bonus bill at the coming session of Congress. In past years they have stood for conflicting proposals.

Mother of Nine Children Died On Canadian Gallows

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Dec. 17.—(P)—Mrs. Elizabeth Tilford, 56 years old and mother of nine children, died on the gallows in the Woodstock county jail yard today for the poison slaying of her third husband.

She was the first woman to be hanged in Ontario in 62 years.

None of her family was present as she entered the courtyard slowly from her cell, where she had been in a virtual state of collapse, and walked weakly through softly falling snow to the scaffold.

The trap was sprung at 12:59 a. m., and death was announced to have been instantaneous.

Four of Mrs. Tilford's children survive. She was convicted here last October of poisoning her last husband, Terrell Tilford, after he offered no defense witnesses, but her counsel tried to show by cross-examination that Tilford might have committed suicide.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF DOCTORS TUESDAY NIGHT LARGELY ATTENDED

Striking tribute to earlier members of the organization along with the usual seasonal gaiety and entertainment featured the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Navarro County Medical Society Tuesday night at the Navarro Hotel with an unusually large attendance.

Dr. J. A. Jones pronounced the invocation and for the following half hour all program and entertainment features were suspended while the banqueters did full justice to the turkey dinner prepared for the occasion.

Prefacing the scheduled program, Dr. Harry Ezell, toastmaster for the occasion, called attention to the fact that during the last year no deaths had occurred in the ranks of the society.

In glowing words, he then described earlier members of the society and their great contributions to the medical profession.

But if budget plans are carried out, a half billion dollars remains to be cut off the debt between now and June 30.

The budget had forecast a $550,000,000 debt decrease during the year through retirement of national bank notes with gold profits.

To date these retirements have amounted to only $283,000,000 leaving $267,000,000 yet to go.

Receipts for the present fiscal year through Dec. 15 were $1,700,659,910 compared with $1,663,891,727 in the same period last year, despite a big lag in processing tax payments pending court challenges of the AAA. Collections of this tax have amounted to $65,000,000 a year as against $28,000,000 last.

The $3,307,846,286 expenditure figure compared with $3,243,000,000 last year. "Emergency" spending stood at $1,411,000,000 in 1934.

The December financing pushed the treasury cash balance to $2,452,510,662. The treasury floated $1,382,910,700 of securities and reduced $418,291,900.

AMERICAN LEGION'S DEMAND FOR PAYMENT OF BONUS IS MADE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(P)—The American Legion demand for cash payment of the bonus was laid squarely before President Roosevelt today at the White House by Ray Murphy, national commander.

The Iowa laid before the president the legislative program adopted by the Legion. It included, in addition to the bonus, pension for widows and dependents, the universal service bill for war time and adequate national defense.

Murphy was accompanied to the White House by John Thomas Taylor, chairman of the legislative committee of the Legion.

As they left, Murphy refused to comment on the president's attitude but when asked if he thought a cash bonus bill could be passed over a veto, replied to have a bonus bill become law. We are not even discussing a veto.

Murphy told newsmen he had "reason to believe" the Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars could be united on a bonus bill at the coming session of Congress. In past years they have stood for conflicting proposals.

Mother of Nine Children Died On Canadian Gallows

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Dec. 17.—(P)—Mrs. Elizabeth Tilford, 56 years old and mother of nine children, died on the gallows in the Woodstock county jail yard today for the poison slaying of her third husband.

She was the first woman to be hanged in Ontario in 62 years.

None of her family was present as she entered the courtyard slowly from her cell, where she had been in a virtual state of collapse, and walked weakly through softly falling snow to the scaffold.

The trap was sprung at 12:59 a. m., and death was announced to have been instantaneous.

Four of Mrs. Tilford's children survive. She was convicted here last October of poisoning her last husband, Terrell Tilford, after he offered no defense witnesses, but her counsel tried to show by cross-examination that Tilford might have committed suicide.

ROOSEVELT RELIEF PROGRAM FOR NEXT YEAR EXPECTED TO INCLUDE ONLY ONE NEW FUND

By THOS. J. HAMILTON, JR. Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(P)—Informed sources hinted today that the Roosevelt relief program for next year may include only one important new outlay—the public works program mentioned by the president yesterday.

This program the president said, probably would total somewhat less than $500,000,000.

The chief executive disclosed that he would propose it to the session of Congress opening next month, but he did not indicate whether there would be other major recommendations for relief.

Today, however, there was said to be a possibility that the $500,000,000 may be the only sizeable recommendation in this field.

The $4,880,000,000 work and relief program mentioned by the president yesterday was appropriated for the fiscal years 1936 and 1937.

All the money has been allotted to various projects, and officials estimated that all but $600,000,000 will be spent by next June 30, the end of the 1936 fiscal year.

By redistributing this unspent money, they say, it would be possible to care for most of the needy unemployed, and will not be a new program as a means of taking up the unemployment slack.

It was recalled that the president's national resources board had urged an annual public works program.

Besides being less than one-ninth the size of the mammoth work relief appropriation put through at the last session after a long, strenuous fight, the new request will be different in another major respect.

The bill, the president disclosed, will carry appropriations for special projects and will not be a blanket request for a lump sum, to be used much as the administration desires. The blanket nature of last session's bill was a long talking point with the opposition.

FLETCHER DECLARES REPUBLICAN OUTLOOK FOR SUCCESS IS GOOD

CHAIRMAN GOP NATIONAL COMMITTEE SAYS SOUTH BE SPLIT AGAIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(P)—Chairman Henry P. Fletcher today sized up reports brought to Washington by republican national committeemen and interpreted the national political picture "very favorable" to the republican cause.

"There has been no indication of sectional or factional feeling," Fletcher said. "There is no east, west, north or south."

This statement was made to newsmen after a meeting of the committee on arrangements for the national convention to be held in Cleveland June 9.

The arrangements committee chose Charles D. Hilles, New York as its treasurer.

A prediction that the solid south would be cracked in 1936 as it was in 1928 was made by R. B. Cragg of Texas.

"It will almost certainly be broken again," he said. "Right now it looks as though North Carolina and Florida would go republican. If the tide continues to run that way, it may go along."

Cragg said he had found Senator Borah of Idaho "well liked" and of Hoover remarked:

"It is impossible to say now. I have urged my friends to keep from commitments at least until after the AAA is passed on by the supreme court."

FLYING POLICEMAN AND FRIEND KILLED IN CRASH TUESDAY

ACCIDENT OCCURS WHILE FLIER WAS STUNTING NEAR DALLAS

DALLAS, Dec. 18.—(P)—Visions of becoming an air policeman cost Clarence G. Karr his life in an airplane crash.

The 28-year-old Dallas policeman and W. W. (Bill) Slater, 22, fell to their deaths here late yesterday in a seven-year-old, unlicensed open biplane as Karr's wife looked on.

Karr, a flying enthusiast about six years, owned the plane. After flying Ben Wicker, police desk sergeant, to Ferris, Texas, and back, Karr invited Slater to go up with him and to do "some stunts."

The ship failed to pull out of a loop.

Inexperience of the pilot and an obsolete type of plane probably caused the crash. A. W. Meadows, aeronautics inspector for the department of commerce, said after an investigation.

Slater was the son of W. H. Slater, war-time aviation mechanic at Love Field here. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Shirley M. Slater of Pueblo, Colo., and a sister, Miss Margaret Slater, student in the University of Texas.

Slater was born August 28, 1913, and was the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. S. York, oldest child of a family of six children, three of which have preceded her in death. She joined the Methodist church at about 16 years of age.

Eliza Ann York was married to W. C. Brown December 26, 1876. They had been constant and devoted companions for 39 years.

Her leaves behind to grieve her parting, a husband, a brother, T. J. York of Corsicana; a sister, Mrs. S. A. Taylor of Houston, and seven children. Mrs. J. H. Strickland of Arlington, Mrs. J. C. Gambill of Hall, and Mrs. M. M. Burleson of Lakeview, Mrs. J. C. Campbell of Hall, and Mrs. J. C. Darnell of San Antonio, all of whom were at her bedside when death came.

Palbearers were Jess Petty, Milton Burleson, Harold Burleson, Willard Burleson, R. P. Smith and Floyd Pope.

COOK IS SENTENCED TWO YEARS PRISON ON BURGLARY CHARGE

CONVICTED BY JURY IN CONNECTION ENTERING FIRESTONE STATION

Noley Cook was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary on burglary and theft indictments shortly before noon Wednesday by District Judge J. S. Callout after a jury had returned verdicts of guilty on the two cases in district court. The indictments were in connection with the burglary of the Firestone station at the intersection of West Fourth Avenue and North Main street, Sept. 2, this year. The defendant entered pleas of guilty to both charges.

At the conclusion of the trials, the defendant thanked and shook hands with each of the jurors.

Testimony showed that Jim Sheets, city police, arrested the defendant in the place of business, and that the safe had been opened and a quantity of money had been removed.

Goldberg Is Witness. Isadore Goldberg, employee at the station, was the first witness called. He testified that he had locked the business doors prior to leaving. He said he returned a short time after the defendant had been arrested and that the money safe was on the floor and the safe open. Goldberg testified Officer Sheets and several others were present when he arrived, but that the defendant had been taken away. Goldberg testified that Cook was brought to the station the following morning by W. S. night, police chief, and that the defendant worked the combination and opened the safe within a minute or minute and a half. He said Ed Barnes, local gun and locksmith, had set and changed the combination on the safe about the first of May, this year.

Goldberg said it was a Firestone company rule that only the manager and credit manager know the combinations to the safes and that when a change in managers or credit managers is made, the combinations to the safes are changed.

Defendant Had Key. Goldberg testified that the defendant had a key to the front door and that the police chief had possession of it the following morning. He said that $400 in checks and $60 in money were in the safe.

Claude Patterson, veteran policeman, testified Officer Sheets called him after surprising the defendant and that when he and Officer W. C. (Mutt) Scarborough arrived the safe was open and the money box was on the money box was either on the

HANDSOME COPY OF FAMOUS PAINTING IS GIVEN NORWOOD

MISS HANNAH BROOKS, IN BEHALF OF TEACHERS, MADE PRESENTATION

An oil copy of Sir Thomas Lawrence's portrait, "The Duke of Durham," by Miss Annie Mae Sandwich was presented Superintendent W. H. Norwood by teachers of the Corsicana public schools in a special faculty meeting at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the junior high school library. Miss Hannah Brooks, teacher in the William B. Travis school made the presentation on behalf of the teachers, and Superintendent Norwood responded.

O. F. Allen, principal of the school presided in the library room which was appropriately decorated with Christmas decorations.

Ed Barnes testified as to changing the combination on the Firestone safe seven or eight months ago. He said he also made four keys for one door and one key for two other doors at the place and gave them to Manager Kinney. Barnes testified that he (Barnes) did not retain any keys and did not keep a record of combinations to safes or give the combination to anyone.

Under further questioning by Criminal District Attorney Cunningham, Barnes said combinations to safes can't be worked by the ordinary man unless he knows the combinations, but experts can do so. He said he did not know whether the defendant was an expert or not.

City Detective Testifies. Bruce Butt, chief of city detectives, testified that Cook made a voluntary statement to him relative to the burglary. The statement was not introduced in evidence.

Jim Sheets, police, testified he had been an officer about 45 years. He said he saw a man in the Firestone station and when he saw the person was not one of the employees, threw his flashlight and gun on him and arrested him. He placed the time at 10:30 p. m. Sheets said the defendant had a punch in his head when he was arrested. The officer said Officer Scarborough brought a key back after taking the defendant to jail and that it unlocked the front door easily.

W. C. Scarborough said he found the front door key on the defendant. He said the safe was open and the money box was on a desk when he arrived.

Carpenter Assessed Death Penalty for Killing His Son

HOUSTON, Dec. 18.—(P)—E. L. Little, 64, carpenter, was given the death penalty by a jury here today when he was found guilty of slaying his 18-year-old son, Marion Ellis Little. Little took the verdict calmly.

"It's tough, isn't it sheriff?" remarked.

From the stand he told the jury that his son had attacked "with something that looked like a claw hammer" and that he, off accidentally as he and his wife engaged in a way struggle for possession.

The boy was shot Sept. 23 last at his home.

Picture Presented. Miss Brooks asked Superintendent Norwood to come to the front of the room, and said in part:

"Because of your courtesy and understanding; your help and sympathy and for our appreciation of you, on behalf of the teachers of the Corsicana public schools I present you with this portrait."

Superintendent Norwood accepted the picture with an appropriate expression of his appreciation, and wished the teachers a merry Christmas in the following words: "I hope that you have the very happiest Christmas of your lives, and that you will be as happy as I have been in receiving this picture."

Principal Allen recognized Miss Sandwich, the artist, and W. F. McGowan, president of the board of education and N. Suttle Roberts, a member of the board, who made a few remarks.

"The Duke of Durham" The portrait "The Duke of Durham" was painted by Sir Thomas Lawrence in 1800, and in England, where it is one of the most popular pictures, it is familiarly called "The Red Boy." The original painting, a life size portrait, is now in the home of the present Duke of Durham, and is valued at more than a million dollars. The young duke, who was the subject of the portrait, died a few years after the completion.

Few colored prints of the original have ever been seen in the United States, and the print from which Miss Sandwich copied the portrait was sent to Mrs. E. A. Johnson by her sister, who lives in London. It was in the form of a magazine supplement. The copy by Miss Sandwich is 27 inches by 26 inches. It is as striking a study in red as Gainsborough's "The Blue Boy" is in blue, and makes an excellent companion for the Gainsborough work.

Lawrence was one of the outstanding portrait painters of his time.

TWO FACE MASKS

MASKS FOR FACES

Not to hide them, but to bring out their beauty! Miss Forbes tells you a face mask for both oily and a dry complexion, to beautify each kind.

Today I am giving you two face mask treatments, one for dry skin and the other for an oily one. If your face is aging more rapidly than it should, or faster than you want it to, use the first mask. But if you have a constantly shiny nose, a tendency toward blackheads and such eruptions, use the second one.

For dry skin or wrinkles—take the yolk of a small egg, beat it lightly with a fork, add a scant half teaspoon of water and then beat in two or three tablespoonsful of almond oil. Three if the yolk is quite small, three if not. Put this in a small bowl or a saucer, then set it in a larger bowl of hot water, for you put it on warm. Wash your face thoroughly with soap and water and rinse with hot water and dry. Now rub this oil mixture over the face, giving it a generous coating and lie down. Relax as completely as you can for ten to 20 minutes, then remove the oil—issues and finally by wiping the face with a cloth wrung from warm water. A nourishing cream after this helps, too, if the treatment can be a bedtime one.

For oily skin, take a heaping tablespoonful of powdered oatmeal and make a stiff paste by wetting it with water and a little witch hazel or eau de Cologne. Beat in the white of a small egg, and beat it all well. Cleanse your skin with hot water and soap as before and apply the paste and let it dry. It pulls on the muscles and makes the face feel fine. Lie down and relax as it dries, ten and preferably 20 minutes.

Remove by rinsing with tepid water. Then rub the skin with a little almond oil and wipe this off with cotton or a tissue, as the skin needs a little lubrication after this oatmeal mask. This makes fine pores.

Mrs. H. B.—The easiest way to give your scalp an oil treatment is to do it before retiring at night.

and shampoo the next morning. You must cover the head, though, or the oil will stain the bed linen. It is well to heat the oil and massage the scalp after the application. Another method is that of doing the whole job at one time. This means massaging the scalp at the start to get the blood circulating fully, or until you feel the scalp all aglow from the increased circulation. Apply warmed oil to it then with finger tips, or small bits of cotton, separating the hair into strands so as to cover the whole scalp fully. Hot, wet towels wound around the head for a half hour after this will help the scalp take up more of the oil; after which, shampoo as usual.

Miss E. C.—You will continue to have the blackheads until you clear up the digestive trouble causing the oiliness on fruit and vegetables, and not too much starchy food with these, such as the refined starches and cereals and foods from white flour. Oily foods, whether in the form of pastries or meats, will increase the oiliness of your skin, since your system does not care for these in the normal way. For the hair on your face, bleach it with peroxide and ammonia, half and half, and the ammonia of the strength used for household purposes. This mixture may dry the hair out, so it ceases to grow.

Richland 4-H Club Held Session Monday

The Richland 4-H club met Monday morning, Dec. 16, at 10 o'clock at Richland High school. After the meeting was called to order and the minutes read, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Vinson, sponsor of Girls' 4-H club.

We decided to meet every second and fourth Monday. The goals that must be completed to win a trip to the Fat Stock show in March were read. Rae Gregory, Carolyn Lofland and Ruth York were appointed as a committee to draw up a club constitution. A Christmas party will be held at Mrs. Vinson's Wednesday afternoon at 3:45.

The following committee were appointed: Refreshments—Beth Hendon, Kathryn Adams and Betty Lou Burton. Games—Sarah Marie Winstead, Mildred Adams and Blanche McCrary.

of this kind, launched on one power without the full support of the other power, would almost inevitably lead to a dissolution of the league.
When the election was ended, the war had been in progress some weeks. I had done everything in my power to mobilize world opinion against it in the assembly at Geneva.
"Despite our efforts, war had broken out and every day it continued it involved the world in greater and more dangerous problems."
Wales Was Present.
The Prince of Wales was present to hear Sir Samuel's statement. He occupied the seat over the clock in the chamber.
Prime Minister Baldwin had come before them without any of the applause which usually greets the appearance of the head of government.
The resigned foreign secretary, who spoke as a private member of the house, told his colleagues that war raised very difficult questions between Great Britain and France.
"It must be obvious to every member," he said, "that the great body of public opinion in France is intensely nervous concerning a breach with Italy and nervous concerning anything likely to weaken the French defense."
"In view of these facts, I did everything in my power to make a settlement possible."
"The proposals which emerged from the discussions in Paris were not French or British in the sense that we like them. Neither level nor I liked many features of them," he said.
Warning Is Issued.
Sir Samuel warned:
"The situation has become more acute. I believe we now are entering a much more dangerous phase."
The conclusion of his address was greeted with a thunderous burst of applause, in contrast to the silence in which he had begun speaking.
While he had been speaking, a furious debate over the foreign policy had been raging in the house.
Lord Halifax, the government's lord privy seal, summarized much of the debate by declaring to his brother peers:
"Efforts toward peace, rightly or wrongly, are dead."

Hill asked Powers if he represented the Great Plains Oil and Gas company.
"In a general way," replied Powers, adding that in "any one way."
"Have you ever paid anyone money as agent of the Great Plains company?" asked Hill.
"No," replied Powers.
"Did you give the firm of Stanley and Sadler a check for $5,000 on November 23?"
"No, Sir," replied Powers.
"Did you know of any payment to Stanley and Sadler by you for any purpose?" The records of the Kluge National Bank show that a deposit for $5,000 from Neal Powers as agent for the Great Plains Oil and Gas company was made by Stanley and Sadler, said Hill.
Declines to Answer.
"I decline to answer any further questions that involves confidential matter between an attorney and his client," retorted Powers.
The records of Stanley and Sadler, the Kluge National Bank on Nov. 14, 1935, show the sum of $5,000 was paid by you to them. The records also indicate you acted as agent for the Great Plains Oil and Gas company.
"I decline to answer for the same reason," replied Powers.
Hill also questioned Powers about other deposits of $900, $875 and $500 which he said "appeared to have been deposited by you as an agent."
Powers again declined to answer.
He did say he represented Stanley and Sadler "at that time."
Hill read the transcript of testimony he said he took from Stanley. The transcript was dated Dec. 14 and Stanley's testimony revealed he had taken an amount of money from Powers for engineering services.
Stanley's testimony revealed he had measured tanks, taken gravity tests and had agreed to appear as a witness in any court his employers "might go into."

In reply to Hill's question, Stanley testified that he had never "made a test on a pit." He added that all tests were made in tanks.
Hill previously had questioned Ralph L. Marek, head of the commission's engineering department, in regards to measurements and reports which might have been made in connection with the pits.
W. J. Christian, member of the tender board and in charge of the commission personnel, was questioned concerning the policy of the commission on granting tenders on back allowances. Christian said he understood no tenders were being granted on back allowances.
Sadler telephoned Hill that he would appear as a witness at the afternoon session.

"GIFT OF GOD" BABY CASE CLOSED; INFANT RESTORED TO MOTHER
ST. LOUIS, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Anna Ware's infant son was restored to her today by the St. Louis court of appeals, bringing to an end the bizarre "Gift of God" baby case.
Denying Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench's motion for a rehearing of Miss Ware's habeas corpus case, the court in a brief session ordered the baby turned over to the Pennsylvania servant girl.
The court's marshal, Joseph E. McDermott, promptly carried out the court's instructions. He accompanied Miss Ware to a children's hospital where the child had been kept under court order and had it delivered to its mother.
The baby had been the center of a dispute almost without parallel in modern legal history. The Bible records a somewhat similar case.
Mrs. Muench, wife of a St. Louis physician, announced the birth of a son on August 18. A day previous, Miss Ware, unwed domestic, gave birth to a son, which she permitted to be taken from her for adoption.
Seeking to regain her child, she filed the suit in which she alleged Mrs. Muench's child was her son. Her contention was upheld by the court, which declared in a report, which the court approved, that Mrs. Muench never adopted the child.
Byrns said he believed both sent and house would dispose of the cash bonus issue by Feb. 1.
He was unwilling, however, to designate the type of bonus legislation.

Lano Woman Is Charged in Death Of Austin Woman
AUSTIN, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Jack Bible, 27, of Lano today was charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Ollie Sherman.
Mrs. Sherman was shot four times with automatic pistol at a rooming house where she lived. Police attributed the shooting to "family trouble."
Detective Captain Rex Fowler said Mrs. Bible came to Austin from Lano yesterday and shortly before the killing visited her husband, Hollis Bible, in jail. Bible is held on a burglary charge.
Mrs. Sherman's survivors included her husband, George Sherman of Lano.

GARNER AND PARTY BACK IN CAPITAL TO PLAN SESSION
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Vice President Garner, Speaker Byrns and a group of senate and house leaders returned to the capital today to shape their plans for the approaching congressional session.
Back from a trip to the Philippine Islands, where they observed inauguration of the new commonwealth government, they surveyed a legislative slate dotted by such ticklish issues as the bonus, neutrality and appropriations which some contend must be brought in line with income.
Garner was not expected at his office today, but Speaker Byrns planned to sit down to his desk and plunge immediately into a stack of work that has piled up in his absence.
"Glad to be back on land again," was Garner's only comment upon reaching the capital.
Byrns said he believed both senate and house would dispose of the cash bonus issue by Feb. 1.
He was unwilling, however, to designate the type of bonus legislation.

TREASURY IS STILL BUYING SILVER HIGH ABOVE WORLD PRICE

SECRETARY MORGENTHAU
SAYS UNITED STATES CON-TINUES IN MARKET

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The treasury still is buying silver, Secretary Morgenthau said today the government has taken all of Mexico's newly mined output during the past year—about 72,000,000 ounces.

"I have bought silver every day this week, including today," Morgenthau replied to press conference questions about slumping world prices for the metal which brokers attribute to treasury policies.

"But aside from mentioning the Mexican purchases, Morgenthau declined to say whether he was buying from private individuals or from governments."

It was understood Mexico's output had flowed naturally to the United States because of favorable prices. Morgenthau said the metal was taken at New York price levels.

The secretary recalled too that the entire newly-mined production of the United States was being purchased by the government. The price paid is 77.57 cents an ounce—far above world figures. Montreal, for example, today quoted 45.40 cents on December futures.

The treasury chief estimated the United States output at 40,000,000 ounces annually.

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Foreign silver dropped another 2 cents today to 53 3/4 cents an ounce, a new low since February and a decline of 11 5/8 cents in the past fortnight.

WAR SITUATION

session of land which, in European repercussions to proposals of peace, had precipitated a crisis in one government and a near-crisis in another.

Hundreds were reported dead in sanguinary engagements. The most ambitious Ethiopian assaults on East Africa's northern front since the start of the war were repulsed by the Italians, said dispatches from Asmara, Eritrea, and the fascist black-shirts retaliated with vigorous counter-movements.

Turmoil marked the diplomatic aftermath of the attempt by Great Britain and France to end the war through a peace plan embodying partial dismemberment of Ethiopia.

Close on the heels of the resignation of Sir Samuel Hoare, the British foreign secretary and co-author of the plan, came a report from Paris that Premier Laval, who collaborated with Hoare, may bow out amid the storm of criticism against the proposals.

In London the life of the Baldwin government, little more than a month old, apparently hung in the balance.

Fighting Is Bitter.
Two Ethiopian assaults on the northern sector, said advices from Italian sources, were followed by Italian counter-thrusts which may increase the total of Ethiopian dead to a thousand or more before battle lines are re-arranged.

Descriptive stories of the conflicts said the Italians withdrew to Dembe Guina Pass, north of Aksum, Ethiopia's Holy City, after the first assaults about the village of Mai Timcheh.

Retrenched the Italians set machine gunners along the mountain ridges and poured deadly volleys into the Ethiopians, whose retreat they sought to cut off.

The Ethiopian bands in the Takkaze River sector were believed by the Italians to be hopelessly trapped in the pass.

Fascist fliers pursued the Ethiopians below Makale, machine-gunning them as they retreated. Italian military experts surmised the Ethiopians charged on the Makale front hoping to profit from a diversion of Italian troops to the conflict northwest along the Takkaze.

In token of the ferocity of the attacking columns, the reports reaching Asmara said Italian dead from the Takkaze sector outnumbered the Italian wounded ten to one.

The mass attack on the Franco-British peace plan, meanwhile, by the public, the press, and a majority of the nations represented in deliberations of the League of Nations council in Geneva, put the government of British Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin in grave danger.

The resignation of Sir Samuel last night failed to clear the troubled political atmosphere. Even if Baldwin successfully weathered an anticipated vote of confidence in the Commons, he still had to overcome his government's original approval of the peace plan.

In Geneva, where the league turned down flatly the Franco-British plan drawn in Paris, the council after two hours of deliberation adopted a resolution placing further efforts toward conciliation in East Africa in the hands of the committee of 13—all members of the council except the parties to the conflict.

No word came from Premier Mussolini on the peace proposals. Official sources in London learned that if Sir Samuel persisted in a determination not to apologize for his course, several of the younger members of the cabinet also intended to resign.

Motion Is Pending.
A motion was pending to promise full support of the League of Nations, in itself a slap at the policy pursued by Sir Samuel in working for a peace by compromise.

In Paris, lobbies of the Chamber of Deputies buzzed with reports that Premier Laval would offer his resignation to President Albert Lebrun. The latter, however, was expected generally to urge Laval to remain as chief of the government.

Edmond Herriot, former premier, saved the Laval cabinet from an immediate crisis by abandoning his leadership of the radical-socialist party and remaining loyal to Laval over the Franco-British peace scheme. But the ultimate effect of the gesture on the Chamber of Deputies debate Dec. 27 on the plan became uncertain.

The radical-socialist party holds the balance of power in the French Chamber of Deputies.

Italian Successes Reported In North

(Copyright 1935, By Associated Press.)
ASMARA, Eritrea, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Italy's northern army repulsed a second Ethiopian assault south of Makale, after balking the first offensive in the Takkaze river sector, and retaliated today with vigorous counter-movements against the attackers.

Fascist fliers pursued the Ethiopians below Makale, machine-gunning them as they retreated, while Italian officers said the native warriors who attacked on the Takkaze river front were surrounded and in danger of almost "total annihilation."

The two battles, coming in quick succession, aroused a belief among military experts that the Ethiopians charged on the Makale front, hoping to profit from a diversion of the Italian troops to the conflict northwest along the Takkaze.

Mountainous barriers between the two sectors, however, apparently prevented proper co-ordination for a decisive double blow.

Details of the battle south of Makale, forward point of the Italian front lines, were slow to come, but Makale advices said the Ethiopians attacked fiercely with a strong force yesterday, just as the Takkaze advance to the northwest was being blocked.

Italian machine-guns met the Makale assault with a withering fire, and the attackers withdrew under a strafing from aerial squadrons. The losses did not become known immediately.

Italian dead from the Takkaze sector combat outnumbered the Italian wounded ten to one. (Rome dispatches said more than 500 Ethiopians and 272 Italians died up to yesterday, after three days of fighting.)

The outcome of that battle confirmed reports that an Italian, retrained drew the Ethiopians into an ambush at Dembe Guina Pass, where the Italians raked them from the two ridges.

Claim Defeat of Italians.
ADDIS ABABA, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Dedjazmach Ayale, commander of the Ethiopian forces on the west bank of the strategic Takkaze River, reported today that his

The bare foot was swollen. His wrists were bound to his knees with hemp. His right arm showed marks as of a needle.

One of the first things he said was: "Don't stick those needles in me." New York police had listed Milne merely as "missing," but J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau of investigation, of the department of justice, stated in Washington today that his department was convinced it was a case of kidnapping.

Hoover sent his men on a three-point drive to capture the kidnappers, working New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Picked Detail on Job.
A picked detail of G-men—eight men who have worked on previous kidnaping cases which the government has solved—were concentrated in this territory. Two came from Chicago by plane, two from New York and four from Washington.

The right agents reported to George Harvey, chief of the Philadelphia squad. When they left him it was in pairs, and one man in each pair carried one of the black cases in which sub-machine guns usually are kept.

Members of Milne's family, including his mother, reached the army had defeated the Italians in a major battle.

He defeated the Italians in a major engagement near Akum (the Holy City captured several weeks ago by the Italians). They fled in great disorder leaving the battlefield strewn with dead. It will inform you of the casualties later.

His report was made directly to Emperor Haile Selassie at Dessaye. His Majesty relayed it back to the capital.

hospital within a few hours of being notified the youth had been found.

S. R. Gerhart, Philadelphia salesman, first saw the prostrate boy by the glare of his auto's headlights.

He sprang from the car and halted another machine, and the occupants, Robert Geaser, 26; his brother, John, 18; Max Riskin, and Lance Smith, 28, all of Philadelphia, helped him remove the half-conscious boy to the home of George Cadwalader, postmaster of Lehigh, and later to the office of Dr. Bradford Green.

Identifies Self.
They removed the stripes from Milne's eyes and mouth. Riskin asked: "Are you Caleb Milne?"

"Yes," the boy replied with effort. "Is your home in New York?"

"Yes." "Do you have a grandfather living in Germantown?"

Warren Milne, uncle of the youth and a central figure in the entire investigation, arrived at the hospital a short time later and identified him.

Finding of the youth climaxed a night of intensive, shielded activity that began at dusk, amid rumors that the family had contacted the abductors and waited to pay $25,000 demanded in a note.

Members of the family persistently denied this; federal agents were silent.

Report Money Paid.
It was reported, however, that Warren Milne acted as intermediary and paid the money last night in a lonely wooded section along Bow creek in southwest Philadelphia.

These reports said the ransom package was made up in the department of justice offices in midtown Philadelphia. The bundle was wrapped in yellow paper, according to instructions the family is supposed to have received.

Milne disappeared after leaving a note addressed to his brother, Frederic, saying he was going to see his grandfather in Philadelphia.

He said he had received a telephone call from a "Dr. Green of Grace Square." Investigation failed to disclose such a person.

Frederic reported his brother's disappearance Sunday after receiving a note made up of words clipped from newspapers, pasted on a sheet of yellow paper. The note said Milne was held in the country and indicated demands for ransom would be made.

New York police listed Milne merely as a "missing person." The department of justice came into the case late Sunday.

Monday night there were reports that the family received a demand for $100,000 or $50,000. Federal agents joined the family in denying this.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Dec. 19.—(AP)—Pennsylvania state police notified "G-men" late today that they have a coat and a hat found behind a school house near the spot where Caleb Milne the Fourth was abandoned by abductors last night.

The troopers would not discuss the apparel except a school teacher found clothing this morning.

It was reported initially been ripped from inside the
